

Contents

List of Tables and Figures	vii
Preface	ix
List of Abbreviations	xi
1 Introduction	1
1.1 The argument and major findings	4
1.2 The state of the art and gaps	16
1.3 Chapter outline	20
2 Theory – Accounting for RO activity and RO success in international negotiations	23
2.1 Regional actors in IOs – definitions	24
2.2 Regional activity in international negotiations and multilevel governance systems – the state of the art	25
2.3 RO success in international negotiations – the state of the art	40
2.4 Nested negotiations: Expectations of RO activity and RO success in international negotiations	50
PART I: ACTIVITY OF REGIONAL ACTORS	55
3 Mapping regional actor activity	57
3.1 The construction of the dataset	57
3.2 Mapping pattern of negotiation activity of regional actors (DV1)	61
3.3 Empirical puzzles	73
4 Analysis of regional actor activity	77

4.1	Methodology	77
4.2	The independent variables	86
4.3	Focused analysis	88
4.4	Comprehensive multilevel analysis	98
PART II: SUCCESS OF REGIONAL ACTORS		105
5	Case Study 1: The negotiations of the South Atlantic Whale Sanctuary	107
5.1	The IWC: Membership, governance and decision-making procedure	108
5.2	Activity and success of ROs in the SAWS negotiations in the years 2011, 2012 and 2014	114
5.3	Conclusions	130
6	Case Study 2: The negotiations on the Arms Trade Treaty	137
6.1	Towards an Arms Trade Treaty	137
6.2	Empirical analysis: The negotiation dynamics in the ATT case	142
6.3	Conclusions	173
7	Case Study 3: The negotiations of the Rome Declaration on Nutrition	183
7.1	History of the Rome Declaration on Nutrition	183
7.2	Empirical analysis: The negotiation dynamics on the text of the Rome Declaration on Nutrition	187
7.3	Conclusions	203
Conclusions		209
C.1	Major findings	211
C.2	ROs in IOs: How to improve active and successful participation	218
C.3	Outlook: Avenues for future research	223
Notes		225
Literature		267
Annex (Chapter 3)		303
Annex (Chapter 4)		325
Annex (Chapter 7)		401
Index		405
About the Authors		411